

Arthur Delargy Head Consultant

Arthur Delargy is a Head Consultant with a Project, Engineering and Study Management capability.

A Process Engineer by background with over 30 years of experience, working both in consultancies and as a Developments Advisor for IOC's. Specializing in field development planning, gas monetization, energy transition, digital transformation, operations & maintenance.

He is currently supporting a major insurance client as a Risk Engineer for construction and operational developments, including developing Risk Assessment Frameworks for green and blue hydrogen and for plastics recycling, a pilot green ammonia study, and large scale CCUS in SE Asia.

Mr. Delargy has an M.Eng Chemical Engineering degree from Imperial College, London.